

INTENTIONAL ACTING

for Young Actors & Their Parents:

How to Create a Smooth Path to Consistent Bookings

ATTEND AND YOU WILL LEARN HOW TO:

- Establish career defining relationships with Casting Directors as you audition.
- De-clutter your acting brain to uncover the hidden clues in the script.
- Use the 9 questions of Intentional Acting to bring out your best and really connect in the scene.
- Avoid the #1 reason why many child actors don't transition well to adult actors.
- Identify your child's career is being derailed by putting the cart before the horse.

You've been told your child has the "look" and the "talent." Now what?

Has your child ever walked out of an audition thinking they nailed it, but didn't get even get a call back? They say that they asked all the right questions of the script, but later realized perhaps they missed some important clues.

2,000 Kids Are Submitted for Every Role

According to John McCarthy of John McCarthy Casting, there are 2000 kids submitted for every role. With that much competition the room for error is razor thin and actors need to be at the top of their game. Only performers who know how to combine their look and talent, with strong acting and audition skills, will be the ones in television and film.

Your Child's Career Is Talking. Loren Is Listening.

During this eye opening and engaging program, Award-Winning Director and one of the top Acting Coaches in America, Loren E. Chadima, will provide a simple and practical road map that will bring out your child's very best performance in even the toughest auditions.

"My son just booked a supporting role in a major feature film!"

"When my son started Intentional Acting classes with Loren, he lacked confidence and suffered performance anxiety, which showed up in mumbling his lines and avoiding eye contact with other people. A year later he booked a supporting role in the feature film, Sacred Oath. He couldn't have done this without Loren's Intentional Acting classes and coaching."
